Benefits of moving to Adobe Commerce as a Cloud Platform (ACCS)

“Always on Security”

Shift focus from operations → growth and customer experience. Faster adoption of innovation without upgrade cycles.

Lower Total Cost of Ownership

Reinvest your savings back into your business. by reducing the need for DevOps, infrastructure, and maintenance resources

Faster Time to Market

Redirect investment toward digital growth and innovation.

Scalability and Performance

Built for enterprise-scale catalogs and complex B2B use cases. Reliable performance during peak demand.

SaaS doesn't just modernize your platform—it modernizes how your business operates.

You know it's time for an upgrade when you face:

Operational Burden	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Manual upgrades, patching, and infrastructure management• End of support: v2.4.6 is August 11, 2026 and v2.4.7 is May 31st 2027*• Ongoing DevOps overhead and rising costs• Teams focused on maintenance instead of innovation	The impact: IT teams remain focused on “keeping the lights on” instead of driving growth.
Slowness to Innovate	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Lengthy release cycles and testing requirements• Delayed adoption of new features and security updates	The impact: Slower time-to-market for new experiences and features when competitors may already be live
Scalability Risks	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Manual scaling and performance tuning• Increased risk during peak demand periods	The impact: Higher risk during critical revenue periods (e.g., peak seasons).
